

375 Hudson Street

375 Hudson Street, originally known as the Saatchi & Saatchi Building, was completed in 1987. The building is over 1.12 million square feet and features rotating lobby art exhibitions. In 2010, after a top-to-bottom "green" retro-fit, the building became the first existing office building in New York City to achieve LEED Gold certification for sustainability and energy efficiency. 375 Hudson Street is the downtown headquarters of media conglomerate Publicis and Turner Construction Company.
